KENTUCKY AND CALLED THE AUTOBATH SITE)

O R D E R

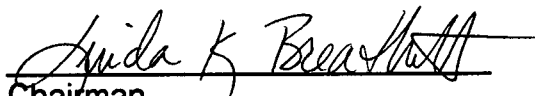

AT&T Wireless PCS, Inc. ("AT&T Wireless") has moved to withdraw its application for authorization to construct and operate a personal communications services ("PCS") facility at 8001 Dream Street, Florence, Boone County, Kentucky. In support of its motion, AT&T Wireless states that it and the city of Florence have completed negotiations for AT&T Wireless to construct a PCS facility at the Florence City Building Tower Site. By letter dated March 6, 1997, the Commission advised AT&T Wireless that construction of the proposed facility at the Florence City Building Tower Site would not require a Certificate of Public Convenience and Necessity since the extension would be in the ordinary course of business pursuant to KRS 278.020(1).

After considering the motion and being otherwise sufficiently advised, the Commission finds that good cause exists to allow the application to be withdrawn. It further finds that the July 11, 1997 hearing should be cancelled.

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED that AT&T Wireless's motion to withdraw is granted and the July 11, 1997 hearing is cancelled.

Done at Frankfort, Kentucky, this 2nd day of July, 1997.
